

Morley's Hotel
Trafalgar Square
March 26th 1895
My dear Friend,

I was delighted to get your letter from the heart of the hills, and to hear again the beloved names of Glenhead, Curlywee. I never dreamed of being so long away from that, but if all is well I hope to have a glimpse of you in May. I am just setting out for Holland, in which country my new book begins. Mr Cook is a delightful man, a gentleman in every way and a great friend of Mrs Crockett's; I need not say more. With my love to the good man and yourself and anticipations of seeing you

I am as ever yours

SRC