St Andrews
7th July [1897]

Dear Marion,

Ruth has a headache and asked me to send you a note telling you how glad and pleased we will be to see you, and of course you must stop at least a night. We have a nice room for you here, so bring your bib and tucker and we will feed you on the fat of the East Neuk.

Let us know when to expect you, and come soon.

I am fearfully busy with a gory yarn called 'The Black Douglas' which I think you will like when it is finished.

But I shall be 'juist horrid gled to see ye.'

With love

As ever your old friend

[note at top of letter] There is a good train getting in at St A at 11.30am. It passes the Lang Toon about 10.30 I think. You change at Leuchars Junction
